ReBuairtel to Miami, 7/31/67.

Enclosed per referenced airtel are an original and three copies of a letterhead memorandum in response to the questions set forth in the memorandum dated 7/27/67 from CARL EARDLEY, Department of Justice, to the Director.

With reference to the answer to question #3 in which the identity of telephone company employees was requested, this is to advise the Bureau that the Departmental Attorney in Miami has telephonically contacted representatives in the Department in Washington concerning this and have instructed the answer set forth be given for #3. Their only concern in this matter was whether or not some employee in the telephone company might be a witness for ROSENTHAL, who would be confronting the Department with the fact that the FBI had requested some particular assistance.

The Departmental Attorney in Miami further advises the Department feels they can dismiss the civil suit on its face inasmuch as in one count involving the Civil Rights Statute, Agents were not acting under the cover of protection of state law enforcement officers, and in the other count, because the Government will not agree to be a party in the civil suit.

ANTI-RACKETEERING

As you were previously advised; [redacted] b6 b7C
[redacted] of notorious Miami, Florida, gambler, Frank "Lefty" Rosenthal, has filed a civil suit in United States District Court, Miami, against the United States as well as five Agents of our Miami Office. [redacted] suit alleges invasion of her privacy and violation of her civil rights resulting from unlawful trespass by our Miami Agents when they installed the microphone coverage of Rosenthal. [redacted] became aware of our microphone coverage of [redacted] when its existence was disclosed by the Department during the March, 1967, trial of Gilbert Lee Beckley. The Department requested and has been furnished all facts with respect to our electronic coverage of Rosenthal.

By memorandum dated August 28, 1967, the Department furnished its proposed draft answer on behalf of the United States to the complaint filed by [redacted] and requested that it be checked for factual accuracy. The Department's proposed answer has been reviewed and found to be factually correct. In brief, the Department in its answer admits that a microphone was installed by trespass by Agents or employees of the United States; however, contends that the complaint failed to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. As to the Agents named in the suit, the Department, in its memorandum advises that it does not intend to file an answer on behalf of the individual Agents until a decision is received on the motion to dismiss the complaint as to them which is to be filed in the near future. The Department advises that if action on that motion is favorable, it will be unnecessary to file an answer for the Agents.

ACTION:

That if approved, the attached letter be sent to Acting Assistant Attorney General Carl Eardley advising him that their answer has been reviewed and found to be factually accurate. Copies of proposed answer being returned per Department's request.

NEW RESIDENCE - CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

On August 31, 1967, [redacted] b6 b7C Suddath of South Florida Movers, 398 NE 79th Street, Miami, related the following information:

On August 31, 1967, her employer picked up the furniture of FRANK ROSENTHAL at 2123 NE 122nd Street, North Miami, Florida. The ~~d~~destination of this furniture was at Harbor House, 3200 North Lakeshore Drive, Chicago, Illinois. In view of the heavy moving schedule, the furniture will not be moved until after September 8, 1967.

GENERAL ACTIVITIES

Daily spot checks conducted at the residence of subject and at his known hangouts reflected his presence in the Miami area from August 15, 1967, through August 25, 1967. ROSENTHAL was not observed in the Miami, Florida area from August 26, 1967, through September 3, 1967.

BUSINESS INTEREST -
MULTIPLE SPORTS NEWS SERVICE
MIAMI, FLORIDA

FRANK ROSENTHAL continues to associate himself with the operation of Multiple Sports News Service (MSNS). He maintains the title of Sports Consultant with this business enterprise.

At the present time MSNS is disseminating "line" information on major league baseball and professional football. They also are in the business of publishing a "Weekly Sports Journal" which indicates weekly sports schedules in regard to major league baseball and collegiate and professional football.

On August 23, 1967, MM T-1 advised SA RALPH R. HILL, JR. that SAMUEL GIANCANA, also known as "Mooney", [redacted] bombings which recently occurred in the Miami area involving Jewish bookmakers and gamblers. Source advised that this was done [redacted] to organize all Jewish bookmakers and gamblers and intergrate them into the Chicago organization. Source further stated that there are [redacted] b7D

Source stated that the man responsible for [redacted] of "Mooney" is FRANK "LEFTY" ROSENTHAL.

On August 29, 1967, MM T-2 advised SA NORMAN E. BLISS and SA [redacted] that he had received no forewarning in regard to the bombings of Miami area bookmaking and gambling figures. Source stated that he personally took these bombings as a sign of the true mental condition of FRANK "LEFTY" ROSENTHAL rather than as a sign of power in regard to organized bookmaking activity. b6 b7C

Source continued stating that the victims of the recent bombings; namely, ALFIE MART, MICKEY ZION, and "CHAPPIE" RAND were rather insignificant figures in the overall structure in bookmaking in the Miami area. Source stated that it was conceivable that the above mentioned victims tried to "bootleg" line information provided by MSNS in order to cut down their bookmaking expenses.

In conclusion source reflected that it was common knowledge in the "trade" that MSNS had been putting out a "false line" and during the past year had lost several customers. He indicated that none of the significant bookmaking figures in the Miami area are using the line service of MSNS for anything but a "check line".

ARTICLES REGARDING BOMBINGS IN THE MIAMI, FLORIDA AREA

MM 92-726

On August 25, 1967, the following article appeared in the "Miami Herald" newspaper, Miami, Florida:

Is Cook's Pal Bomber? Or Is It Lefty's Buddy?

By JIM SAVAGE
Herald Staff Writer

John Clarence Cook probably knows who planted the bombs that rocked his house twice during the past week, county lawmen believe.

Cook knows bombers, assassins and other underworld specialists as most people know plumbers and doctors.

This has led some lawmen to believe Cook himself has hired Dade's shadowy bomber to destroy his high-priced Cadillac, speedboat and cabin cruiser so he can collect insurance on them.

Others believe Cook is being double-crossed by his close friend Frank (Lefty) Rosenthal. They say Rosenthal has hired the bomber to run Cook out of town because they believe he may be competing with Rosenthal's gambling operations.

If the first theory is true, why would Cook suddenly decide to blow up his own car and boats to collect insurance?

It's no secret the Internal Revenue Service is breathing down Cook's neck, and maybe he decided he didn't want his money tied up in property that could easily be seized for payment of back taxes, the lawmen say.

In all of the other recent Dade bombings, the explosions were clearly intended to convey a message — a threat.

But if someone is simply trying to send John Clarence Cook a message, they're going overboard in dotting the i's and crossing the t's.

On Monday, the bomber blasted Cook's Cadillac and Donzi speedboat. On Wednesday, he returned with another sophisticated plastique bomb to torpedo Cook's cabin cruiser.

All in all, the damage now stands at $30,000 and the neighbors are hoping the noisy liquidation of Cook's assets has ended.

About the only thing Cook now owns that hasn't been converted into rubble is his $40,000 house. The neighbors hope he'll just quietly sell that and move away.

Cook says he doesn't know who is setting off the bombs — but he has a habit of stretching the truth a bit when lawmen ask questions.

He's the type who would rather derisively compare his expensive sports clothes with the detective's cheap, drip-dry shirt than answer questions.

If Lefty Rosenthal is double-crossing Cook by hiring the bomber, as some lawmen believe, it'll mean the end of a beautiful friendship.

Cook and Rosenthal have been close friends for years.

Rosenthal has arrived on the scene minutes after both bombings at the Cook household, lawmen point out. He arrived with Cook to view the smoking ruins Wednesday night.

If Cook isn't arranging his own bombings, he may be taking some long, hard looks at his pal Rosenthal in the next few days. Cook is aware that Lefty knows as much about bombing as he does.

Lawmen speculate on who is hiring the bomber — but nobody seems to know who the mysterious bomber actually is.

State Attorney Richard Gerstein announced recently he knows who is responsible for the bombings. But if he knows the actual bomber he hasn't had him arrested yet and the bombs keep going off.

Whoever the Cook bomber is, lawmen admit he knows his business. Working with some of the most sophisticated explosives and detonators known, he has always managed to plant his charge, activate it and disappear before the blast.

If he ever fumbles a job, lawmen just hope there will be enough of him left for them to identify.

Dade's Fumble-Fingered Bomber

Since last January there have been 10 bombings or attempted bombings in the Miami area. The targets ranged from bookies to businessmen. Which way the investigation is going now is outlined in the two-part series of articles which starts today.

By VERNE O. WILLIAMS
Reporter of The Miami News

A little after midnight last Jan. 24, a patrolman checked the front door of a real estate office at 11805 Biscayne Blvd. It was locked. He walked on, whistling, to rattle knobs at the bank next door.

He missed death by five minutes.

At 12:30 a.m. an explosion shattered the night. The front door of the Hamilton Realty Company, cannoned by the blast from within, flew completely across Biscayne Boulevard.

This was the opening blast of the wave of bombings that have rocked Dade County in recent months. The last one demolished the $12,000 speedboat of ex-convict John Clarence Cook just a week ago. The total, including two duds, now stands at 10.

Among the targets have been bookies, businessmen, a jewel fence, a police officer and one probable case of mistaken identity. Yet investigators feel certain that all 10 bombings are linked.

The man that at least four separate law enforcement agencies say could shed light on this link is Frank (Lefty) Rosenthal, onetime basketball fixer and wire service "consultant."

Rosenthal isn't talking. He was called before the Dade Grand Jury on June 28 and refused to waive immunity or testify.

But detectives in the criminal intelligence units of local departments point out these coincidences. Rosenthal lives in an apartment rented from the owner of the Hamilton Realty Co. He is a close friend of John Clarence Cook. He works for Multiple Sports Service, which supplies betting odds to gamblers. Three of the bombed bookies are said to be former clients of that odds service.

No one is charging that Rosenthal tossed the boms. But they think he may know who did. The bomber, whoever he is, appears to be a fumble-fingered character who leaves duds and often hits the wrong target. He cares little about innocent people.

The bomber who planted a dozen or more sticks of dynamite in the Hamilton realty office used too much. Pieces of metal window and chunks of masonry flew like shell fragments. By a miracle, no one was passing on foot or in a car just as that moment.

Capt. Tom Brodie of the sheriff's bomb lab recalls that the building had to be torn down. But there was one cruious twist. The dynamite, as shown by its imprint on the terrazzo floor, was beside a telephone box in the hall. Yet the phone still worked afterward.

E. J. Hamilton, the victim, could offer no motive. But he said he had recently asked Rosenthal and another ex-convict to move from a apartment building he operated. It happened, also that the FBI had somehow been able to maintain a continuous phone tap on Rosenthal's apartment at 2123 NE 122nd St. without interference for over a year.

The next four bombing incidents came in rapid-fire order from May 30 to June 3. The first was a dud and its existence was kept quiet.

It was the work of a bomber who plainly never played baseball. He pitched it the night of May 30 at the balcony of the second-floor apartment of bookie Mickey Zion at 7501 E. Treasure Dr. near the west end of the 79th Street Causeway.

The bomb glanced off and fell to a driveway below. There the building caretaker found it next day. He carried the strange-looking affair into his own apartment and called police. He didn't realize he was holding sudden death.

Capt. Brodie later determined that the fall had damaged a timing device. The bomb was crudely made of two one-third-pound primer charges wrapped with fishing line. Each was about the size of a frozen fruit juice can. Attached to them as a detonator was an Army M-1 "time pencil."

This was the first, but not the last, appearance of the time pencils. These are coppery-looking tubular devices the size of a ballpoint pen. When one end is pinched, a glass vial inside is crushed and acid eats on a metal trigger. In a pre-set time, varying from minutes to hours, the metal is eaten through and a firing pin released by spring action.

Fumble-Fingered Bomber Gets His Wires Crossed

Is the wave of bombings in Dade going to continue? The count now stands at 10 bomb incidents since January. Innocent people narrowly have missed death. Here are the facts from behind-the-scenes in the official investigation. Second two articles.

By VERNE O. WILLIAMS
Reporter of The Miami News

Irving (Mickey) Zion is a bookmaker with connections. Only a few months ago, raiders hitting his North Bay Village apartment found an address book with coded phone numbers for gamblers and racketeers scattered from New York to Los Angeles.

On the night of May 30 someone tossed a bomb at the balcony of Zion's second-floor apartment at 7501 E. Treasure Dr. on the 79th Street Causeway. It was made of two powerful "booster" charges and could have made a shambles of Zion's living room.

But the bomb — apparently swung upward with a pipe or fishing line — missed and fell into a nearby driveway. The fall disabled a military timing device meant to detonate the charges after a few minutes delay. It was a dud.

Three nights later the fumble-fingered bomber had better luck at Zion's place. He decoyed North Bay Village police to the other end of town with a fake alarm, then blew up Zion's convertible in the parking lot beside the same apartment building.

The blast left both the convertible and another car parked beside it in flames. Police experts feel that a combination of explosive and incendiary materials was used. The bomb was placed in the left rear seat of Zion's car.

"Those two cars really blazed up," recalls Capt. Tom Brodie, chief of the sheriff's bomb lab.

Meanwhile, two other bookies had been targets of the bomber during the three-day interval. Investigators were later to call this period the "bookie war." By coincidence, it began after the bookies dropped a costly service supplying betting odds.

On May 31 about 11 p.m. a bomb blast roared in an alley behind the back door of a Miami Beach grocery store. Detectives were momentarily puzzled. Then they noticed the unfortunate Epicure Market was next door to Alfie's cigar store at 1664 Alton Rd. The latter shop was headquarters for Alfie Mart, longtime bookie kingpin on Miami Beach.

Intelligence officers like Lt. Charles Black of the sheriff's department believe the bomber was the same fumble-fingered gent who couldn't hit Zion's balcony. The next time he simply got the wrong back door.

Bomb expert Brodie calculated about a pound of high explosive, triggered by a "time pencil," was used. The time pencils are military detonating devices that provide a delay time of several minutes to many hours.

The next night after the miss at Alfie's, a cleaning shop on the Sunny Isles motel strip took two white phosphorus bombs. It was owned by Jack (Chappie) Rand, a convicted bookmaker.

The fire grenades were of military origin. They left behind their calling card — the ring and trigger mechanism from the cap.

Two weeks passed and someone apparently decided Alfie's Mart didn't get his first message. The second came from a telephone booth in the back of the cigar store. It blew up.

Four customers and a clerk at the front of the cigar store escaped with ringing eardrums. A heavily barred steel door to a back room was knocked down. Only moments earlier, several girls had used the phone booths.

Brodie estimates about a half-pound of high explosive triggered by a "time pencil" had been placed under the shelf in the demolished phone booth.

"The effect was like throwing a grenade in the booth," Brodie says. "It would have been a bad time to decide to use the phone."

A few days after Alfie's phone-booth incident became the fourth bookie bombing in a row, the Dade Grand Jury summoned Frank (Lefty) Rosenthal, one-time basketball fixer now associated with Multiple Sports Service, 1090 NE 79th St.

Rosenthal and an associate, Sam Greene, declined to sign waivers of immunity and answer the jury's questions. The FBI has charged that Multiple Sports Service disseminates gambling information to bookies.

Almost a month passed and on the night of July 12, someone tossed a bomb on the front lawn of Miami police officer Gerald E. Saslaw. It tore an 18-inch hole in the dirt and filled the officer's living room with shattered glass. More glass showered the crib of Saslaw's baby daughter, but she was uninjured.

Saslaw had been assigned to keeping a close tab on the northeast home of ex-convict John Clarence Cook. Among the visitors to Cook's home on occasion was Rosenthal.

Later, Cook's home at 1240 NE 82nd St. was itself a target. But first came another incident...

On July 13, a day after the Saslaw incident, came an apparent try on the life of a private detective who earlier this year was hired to help clear John Cook of a bank robbery charge.

A gob of plastic explosive, known as C-4 to the military, was found planted on ignition wires under the hood of a yellow Chevrolet owned by a businessman living at 1041 NE 179th St. next door to Charles Cook, operator of Continental Investigators. Cook, no relation to his client, John Cook, owned a white Chevvy.

Detectives concluded it was quite possible that a fumble-fingered bomber who couldn't find the right back door might also get the wrong car. He also got the wrong wires, two positive ones, and saved stationery store owner William Schantz, 37, from death when he turned the key of his car.

Everyone on the bombing scorecard up to this point knew either Rosenthal or John Clarence Cook intimately. Yet, somehow, Cook himself now became the target of the fumble-fingered bomber.

On the night of Aug. 21, the bomber planted two neatly rigged one-pound charges connected by a 10-foot length of detonating cord. In an economic mood, he hooked both via the cord to a single time pencil. One charge demolished Cook's costly Cadillac and the other an outboard in the carport.

Remnants of the pencil and the outline of the blast, incidentally, enables expert Brodie to make this reconstruction.

But, as intelligence unit detectives see it, the bomber made a mistake. They believe he had a "contract" on Cook's car and boat, probably as a get-out-of-town warning for the ex-convict. But the boat he got belonged to one of Cook's inlaws.

He was supposed to blow up the 24-foot Marianne, docked in a waterway behind Cook's house. The speedy Mariann was Cook's pride and joy. It once figured in a trip to Nassau at a time when, coincidentally, a wealthy Bahamian lost a fortune in jewels.

The bomber aimed to please, detectives concluded. Last Wednesday night he came back and blew the bottom out of the Marianne with a two-pound charge. About the only way he could reasonably have gotten to the boat at the hour he chose — 10:30 p.m. — was by donning scuba gear and swimming the 100-yards from the bay.

At this point in the probe, investigators feel it quite likely the bombing siege is not yet over.

"If you find any suspicious objects, don't touch them. Call us," pleads Capt. Brodie. "If you saw anything connected to any of these incidents, call police at 377-7777."

"CONTINUED - OVER"

Memorandum J. J. Casper to Mr. Mohr
Re: Frank "Lefty" Rosenthal
Elsur

[redacted] v. United States
Et al

b7C

In the [redacted] case, the plaintiff's theory under Count I is that the United States should be liable under the Federal Tort Claims Act (28 USC 2674) for invasion of privacy and trespass committed by Agents acting in behalf of the government. To enter suit under this act, it is necessary for the plaintiff to allege circumstances sufficient to show that the United States, if a private person, would be liable under the laws of the state where the action arose. Then, to bring suit in the Federal District Court, the plaintiff must show jurisdiction under 28 USC 1346 (b) by alleging the acts complained of were committed by employees while acting within the scope of their office or employment as Agents of the FBI. The admission that the Agents were acting within the scope or office of their employment, relates solely to the question of jurisdiction of the Federal court and does not admit liability on the substantive complaint.

The government has admitted the fact of the installation and use of the microphone, apparently because of prior admissions in other cases but denies any damage resulted to the plaintiff. Moreover, the government says that the statute of limitations (two years from date tort claim accrues, 28 USC 2401 (b)) bars recovery in this case except for the period June 9, 1965, through July 12, 1965. This significantly reduces the potential damage claim because instead of a whole year of surveillance, the maximum period for which damages could be claimed is 33 days.

In summary, the government's position under Count I is that the plaintiff is entitled to sue and the Federal District Court has jurisdiction for the suit but the government is not liable for damages under the facts alleged.

Count II charges the Agents as individuals with liability under 42 USC 1985, one of the Federal Civil Rights Statutes. The government has filed a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim on the general grounds that the statute does not apply to Federal officers acting under color of Federal law but is limited to action taken under color of state law to deprive one of a Federal right.

Once again, the government's admission in this case that the Agents were acting within the scope of their employment is useful as a matter of strategy in regard to jurisdiction. It does not admit liability to the plaintiff.

Memorandum J. J. Casper to Mr. Mohr
Re: Frank "Lefty" Rosenthal
Elsur

[redacted] v. United States
Et al

b7C

Note that in [redacted] the plaintiff does not attack the Agents individually under a theory of simple common law trespass. Her suit is based strictly on two Federal statutes. In this sense, it becomes a companion case to [redacted] and does not overlap. There is no indication on the face of the complaints that they are products of a single master plan to embarrass the FBI and harass its Agents. But, it would be totally consistent with the facts if that were true. [redacted] is an attack using one legal approach, while [redacted] attempts to achieve the same goal by an alternate route. Much of the law in this area is untested under modern conditions and it would not be beyond belief if our opponents in organized crime were consciously pressing alternative legal theories looking for our "Achilles heel." Therefore, we should continue to vigorously demand the Department's best representation of our interests in these cases.

Assistant Attorney General Ed Weisl, Jr., called at 4 p.m. 11/14/67 and made reference to the captioned case. He stated that with respect to the microphone placed by the FBI, through trespass, in [redacted] b7E the Rosenthal home, the Department was considering settlement with respect to the suit entered by [redacted] Frank Lang "Lefty" Rosenthal.

Weisl told me that the U. S. Government was currently the party in suit, however, the Department fully anticipated that the Court of Appeals would allow [redacted] to sue the Agents who were involved in placing the microphone. Weisl stated that the Department felt they probably could get off with a settlement of at least $10,000. He asked my opinion in the matter. b6 b7C

I told Weisl that we were against any settlement of funds to a hoodlum who had entered suit against the FBI, or the U. S. Government, as a result of utilization of microphones or electronic equipment. He stated he felt this way too, however, there was trespass involved. I told him that nevertheless a settlement would constitute surrender and would no doubt set up a chain reaction of suits throughout the country. I mentioned that settlement is tantamount to total surrender and guilt and that the Department and the FBI should not be placed in this position.

REC-77 92-6692-122

Weisl argued that [redacted] and therefore an innocent party. I told him that I doubted very seriously the court would look upon her as an innocent party inasmuch as [redacted] of a hoodlum and her conversation had been heard from a microphone in the hoodlum's home. I stated she therefore was a party to association with a hoodlum. I told Weisl also that the Department should look with stronger regard upon the justification of the utilization of electronic equipment in such cases rather than the possible "guilt" involved.

Memo, DeLoach to Mr. Tolson
Re: Frank Lang "Lefty" Rosenthal

Weisl stated he would discuss this matter further before making a decision. He stated that while he agreed with me, he disliked the thought of taking a considerably larger number of depositions or going through a long rigmarole of further legal proceedings. I told him that in our opinion this was far better than surrendering to hoodlums.

At 12:55 PM on December 7, 1967, [redacted] was observed by Bureau Agents arriving in Las Vegas and traveling by cab to Caesars Palace. Almost immediately after arriving at Caesars Palace, [redacted] received a page and thereafter obtained his attache case and went to the hotel executive offices.

After a half an hour in the hotel executive offices, he returned to the casino area with an individual identified as FRANK "LEFTY" ROSENTHAL.

At approximately 3:15 PM, [redacted] and FRANK ROSENTHAL departed from Caesars Palace in a late model Mustang bearing a California license. This license was registered to [redacted] West Los Angeles, California. Also identified as being in the Mustang was MORTON PAUL KANE a known associate of ROSENTHAL. The fourth individual in the vehicle was an unidentified white female.

Thereafter [redacted] and FRANK ROSENTHAL were observed at Mc Carran Field boarding United Air Lines flight 686.

At 9:23 PM on December 7, 1967, [redacted] and FRANK ROSENTHAL arrived at O'Hare Airport, Chicago, Illinois, upon United Air Line flight 686.

b6
b7C

After the arrest of [redacted] FRANK ROSENTHAL declined to make any comments and immediately left O'Hare Airport Terminal after picking up his baggage at the baggage counter.

MULTIPLE SPORTS NEWS SERVICE, MIAMI, FLORIDA

On November 20, 1967, Bureau Agents executed three search warrants in regard to the business operation of the above-mentioned sports service.

These search warrants were executed at the residence of SAM GREEN at Dade County, Florida, at the business address of Multiple Sports News Service, Miami, Florida, and on the vehicle driven by SAM GREEN.

A review of the evidence seized from the three search warrants reflects the operation of an interstate "line" service. It also reflected the dissemination of more than 3,000 Weekly Sports Journals throughout the U.S. on a weekly basis.

Records reviewed that were obtained in the search reflected a reference to FRANK ROSENTHAL as the individual who was paying the "line" fee for JOSEPH NESLINE, also known as, "POSSUM", a Washington, D.C. area bookmaking and gambling figure.

During the execution of the search warrants at GREEN's residence, SA [redacted] received a call from an individual who identified himself as "LEFTY" ROSENTHAL. He expressed a desire to talk to STANLEY.

On October 31, 1967, SAM GREEN in a permanent injunction hearing before Circuit Judge FRANCES J. CHRISTIE, Miami, Florida, stated that ROSENTHAL was no longer associated with him in the operation of Multiple Sports News Service.

On November 20, 1967, MM T-2 advised that Miami area bookmakers are extremely leary of "line" being disseminated by Multiple Sports News Service. Source cited several examples of a "false line" put out by this outfit. Source further indicated that he believes ROSENTHAL is purposely putting out a "false line" on certain contests in order to better his position in betting with bookmakers across the country.

SUBJECT'S PREVIOUS INCARCERATION, DADE COUNTY JAIL, MIAMI, FLORIDA

With regard to subject's previous incarceration the following article is noted:

The article appeared on December 16, 1967, in the "Miami Herald" newspaper, Miami, Florida:

"A former sheriff's lieutenant, who lost his badge because he allowed special snacks to be brought into the Dade County Jail for gambler FRANK (LEFTY) ROSENTHAL, Friday asked the Circuit Court to overrule his dismissal.

The lawsuit, filed by MILTON KLEIN, of 1202 Salzedo, Coral Gables, names County Manager Porter Homer.

When the KLEIN case came about last year it was considered a symptom of the growing conflict between the county manager and his Personnel Advisory Board.

KLEIN was fired by Sheriff E. WILSON PURDY last March. Then, after hearing a lengthy appeal, the advisory board recommended that he be reinstated. But HOMER said no.

The lawsuit called HOMER's action an "unreasonable exercise of governmental authority."

The ex-policeman got his walking papers after he allowed attorney DANIEL W. MONES to bring food to the jail for ROSENTHAL.

KLEIN, who was shift commander at the time, was accused of accepting a gift -- some of the food -- and of being unduly familiar with a county jail inmate.

KLEIN had served with the Sheriff's Office for 21 years."

Investigation reflects that FEINER is [redacted] of FRANK ROSENTHAL. b6 b7C

On April 3, 1968, Criminal Court Judge JACK TURNER sentenced FEINER to ninety days in jail for making a usurer's loan. FEINER pled no contest of lending a man $2,000 and then collected $100 a week without reducing the principal of the loan.

Judge TURNER made the following statement after sentencing FEINER:

"There are certain cases we have to make examples of".

Ignoring the plea of FEINER, a diabetic for leniency. "There is more involved here than just the two defendants".

B. DONALD ANGELINI

On March 28, 1968, Agents of the Chicago Division arrested ANGELINI, and conducted a search at the business address controlled by ANGELINI. This business is Angel-Kaplan Sports News Service which is the largest handicapper of sports events in the Chicago area and one of the largest in the country.

Investigation reflects that ANGELINI operates the business of Angel-Kaplan under the direction of FIORE "Fi Fi" BUCCIERI and also functions as a gambling boss on the west side of Chicago for the BUCCIERI group.

Prior investigation reflects that FRANK ROSENTHAL is closely associated with both DONALD ANGELINI and FIORE BUCCIERI. There is also a close working relationship between Angel-Kaplan in Chicago and Multiple Sports News Service in Miami, Florida. ROSENTHAL was not observed in the Miami area from March 28, 1968 through April 7, 1968.

As you have been advised, [redacted] nationally prominent hoodlum and gambler Frank "Lefty" Rosenthal, filed a civil suit in United States District Court, Miami, Florida, against the United States and five Bureau Agents for invasion of privacy and violation of her civil rights resulting from a microphone placed by the FBI through trespass in [redacted] the Rosenthal home. The suit against our Agents has been dismissed.

Assistant Attorney General Edwin L. Weisl, Jr., Civil Division, previously indicated that the Department desired to settle this suit with payment of $10,000 to Rosenthal's [redacted] We have from the outset, opposed such action since making any kind of settlement would put us in the position of capitulating to hoodlum pressure.

Assistant Attorney General Weisl now contends that a settlement is desirable, in that logs relating to our microphone coverage in the Rosenthal case reveal that conversations pertaining to sex and pregnancy were overheard by our Agents over the microphone and that revelation of such data before any hearing in this matter could be a source of embarrassment to the Bureau and the Department. The microphone produced extensive gambling information.

With respect to information contained in the logs, our Miami Office advises that there is no information concerning sex contained therein and that pregnancy was mentioned in only one instance, that being a brief conversation between Rosenthal and [redacted] during which she indicated she might be pregnant. 62 MAY 7 1968

Memorandum to Mr. DeLoach
Re: Frank Lane "Lefty" Rosenthal

For your information, the installation of the microphone coverage in this case involved trespass and was maintained under the general authority of former Attorney General Kennedy from July 7, 1964, to July 20, 1964, and again from September 10, 1964, to July 12, 1965. Its continuance was specifically authorized by former Attorney General Katzenbach on April 12, 1965. The microphone was located [redacted] which was used by Rosenthal as a place to contact hoodlum associates and to carry on his nationwide gambling operation. The installation generally concerned coverage of Rosenthal's illegal gambling operation, his contacts with hoodlums and police corruption. b7E

OBSERVATIONS:

Any settlement by the Department of this civil suit against the Government in the form of financial remuneration to [redacted] a nationally prominent hoodlum would constitute total surrender, as well as admission of guilt and open the door to similar suits throughout the country particularly by the hoodlum element. The mere fact that a brief conversation between Rosenthal and [redacted] concerning her pregnancy and [redacted] was recorded over our microphone, does not appear to offer sufficient grounds for total capitulation to an element which we are vigorously and successfully combating. Strong opposition to this suit is clearly indicated rather than "the easy way out" advocated by the Department. Our Miami Office has also indicated opposition to such settlement. b6 b7C

ACTION:

We will continue to insist to the Department that this suit be strongly opposed and that every effort be made to obtain a decision favorable to the Government and the FBI.

April 27, 1968

Rosenthal is a nationally known gambler and hoodlum residing in Miami and Chicago. Investigation indicates Rosenthal is currently involved and is a member of a betting combine with Las Vegas gambler Dave Bohn. A Miami source has advised Rosenthal spends normal bookmaking hours outside his residence making extensive telephone calls as well as notations on different pieces of paper. A Miami source is willing to provide information regarding Rosenthal's wagering activity and will make available his residence as an observation point. Miami has requested authority, at request of Departmental attorney, to institute photographic surveillance of Rosenthal's activity in order to corroborate his telephone activity and to positively identify notations made by him as gambling records. In view of Rosenthal's long history of association with prominent gamblers, jewel thieves and members of the hoodlum element, the Special Investigative Division feels authority should be granted for Miami to conduct the requested photographic surveillance, and so recommends.

FLORIDA RESIDENCE - NORTH MIAMI, FLORIDA

ROSENTHAL maintains a Townhouse residence at 2123 N.E. 122nd Street.

Subject was in the Miami, Florida area from April 8 to April 28, 1968.

On April 29, 1968, MM T-1 advised that ROSENTHAL had departed his residence in his vehicle and had not been seen the entire day. On May 6, 1968, MM T-1 advised the subject returned to his residence on May 5, 1968.

ROSENTHAL has been observed at his N. Miami residence from May 5 to May 13, 1968.

GENERAL ACTIVITIES

On April 25, 1968, MM T-1 advised that ROSENTHAL has been seen on a daily basis at his North Miami residence during the past two weeks.

Source stated that during the week of April 15, 1968, ROSENTHAL left his residence between the hours of 5:30 and 6:00 A.M. on four separate occasions. He further indicated that ROSENTHAL continues to sit out on a chaise lounge during the hours of 11:00 A.M. to 2:00 P.M. on a daily basis.

Although source can not overhear the content of his telephone conversations, it is apparent that he makes and receives numerous calls during the day time hours. He also has been observed making numerous notes and figures on pieces of paper near his lounge chair.

Source stated that about four days ago he observed an unidentified white male come to ROSENTHAL's house in the absence of subject and entered ROSENTHAL's residence by using a key. He described this individual as follows:

Race	White
Sex	Male
Height
Weight
Hair
Peculiartities

b6
b7C

Source said that ROSENTHAL appears to be friendly with [redacted] who reside at [redacted] North Miami, Florida. [redacted] is friendly with [redacted]

Source stated that SAM GREEN continues to visit the ROSENTHAL residence on an almost daily basis.

On April 29, 1968, MM T-1 identified a photograph of [redacted] as the individual that had been observed entering the residence of ROSENTHAL by use of a key.

On May 9, 1968, there was observed a black Chrysler New Yorker parked in front of subject's residence. This car bore 1967 Illinois license DL7137A.

GAMBLING ACTIVITIES OF SUBJECT

On April 4, 1968, MM T-2 advised that FRANK ROSENTHAL, aka "LEFTY" had within the past month or two moved to Las Vegas and [redacted] by DAVE BOHN to help him [redacted] BOHN from a bettor.

b7D

According to the source, ROSENTHAL [redacted] in BOHN's wagering activities. Source stated that BOHN is betting very heavily throughout the United States on basketball and major league exhibition games. Source further indicated that BOHN is himself indebted to many gambling figures throughout the United States and owes

[redacted]

Source continued stating that several years ago "LEFTY" ROSENTHAL used to be an important figure in the Chicago gambling industry which was controlled by the Italian criminal element.

b6
b7C
b7D

Supposedly, ROSENTHAL had sufficient stature to sit in on Italian hoodlum meetings where matters of policy were discussed. ROSENTHAL supposedly worked in Chicago directly under an individual who had the nickname of "FIEF" (FIORAVANTE BUCCIERI).

Source stated that when ROSENTHAL left Chicago, Illinois several years ago, he went to Miami, Florida. Thereupon, ROSENTHAL established a sportsline service and had the backing of the Chicago-Italian criminal element in promoting this service.

Source feels that ROSENTHAL is a "front" for the organized Italian criminal element in the gambling industry. This supposition is based upon the fact that when ROSENTHAL owes money to another gambler he will not pay, but will attempt to have the other gambler keep playing with a hope that eventually the gambler will end up owing ROSENTHAL money. In the gambling industry, according to the source, this is very unorthodox as it does not allow for a ready exchange of money between gamblers; further, it has the tendency to confuse "bottom figures" of various gamblers.

In conclusion, source stated that before DAVE BOHN went into partnership with ROSENTHAL, that BOHN was hardup financially, and had to put up money with various gamblers in the country before he could bet; however, after joining ROSENTHAL he no longer had to do so.

In April, 1968, MM T-2 also advised that [redacted] is presently betting heavily on basketball and major league exhibition games throughout the country. b7D

Source also stated that this individual is losing considerable sums of money to gamblers throughout the country including ROSENTHAL, who is now operating out of Las Vegas and Miami.

FD-302 (Rev. 4-15-64)

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 6/18/68

FRANK LARRY ROSENTHAL, also known as Frank Larry, who resides at 2123 NE 122nd Street, North Miami, Florida, was interviewed at the Miami Federal Bureau of Investigation Office, 3801 Biscayne Boulevard. The appearance of ROSENTHAL was voluntary and the following items were discussed:

ROSENTHAL indicated a displeasure of a recent visit by SA [redacted] to the Bache & Company, Inc., 9578 Harding Avenue, Surfside, Florida, with respect to his account at this stockbrokerage house. b6 b7C

ROSENTHAL was told that this inquiry was of a general nature as to his business relationship with this firm and more specifically as to his margin account with the stockbrokerage house.

ROSENTHAL also expressed resentment over his roll in the recent bombings that took place in the Miami area, according to law enforcement officials. He emphatically denied any participation in the bombings of local bookmaking figures and the Hamilton Realty Company in North Miami, Florida. He said that no one could connect him with these incidents.

In reference to the operation of Multiple Sports News Service, he indicated that he was still connected with this line dissemination business. He did not elaborate as to his official capacity although stated that he helps out STAN (GREEN) in any way possible. He said that the operation of Multiple Sports News Service could be a very lucrative one but the FBI in Miami had destroyed its monetary worth. He contends that the operation of this business as to the dissemination of line information and the distribution of the "Weekly Sports Journal" is entirely legitimate under both State and Federal laws.

On 6/11/68 at Miami, Florida File # Miami 92-726

by SUPV. [redacted] and SA [redacted] jgm Date dictated 6/17/68

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

In line with the legitimacy claimed by ROSENTHAL for this business, he was asked to identify the line customers and the subscribers of the "Weekly Sports Journal". He refused to do this and reflected that no good could come his way by such a disclosure.

He commented that things in Chicago, Illinois were very hot and he was now attempting to sub-lease his apartment residence at the Harbor House. ROSENTHAL had no comment concerning the activities of ANGEL-KAPLAN, DONALD ANGELINI, FIORE BUCCIERI or other Chicago associates.

ROSENTHAL stated that the FBI was wasting their time and investigative efforts in interviewing his friends and associates in Las Vegas, Nevada. He specifically mentioned the name of [redacted] at Caesar's Palace Hotel. b6 b7C

He indicated a close personal relationship with ELLIOT PAUL PRICE and JERRY ZAROWITZ, who are both executives of the Caesar's Palace Hotel and Casino. He denied now having or trying to obtain a financial interest in the Caesar's Palace Hotel and Casino. He said that it would be next to impossible for him because of his record to have an interest in any casino in Las Vegas. He indicated, however, that he was giving some thought to applying for a work permit in Las Vegas so he could obtain legitimate employment in that area.

ROSENTHAL said that he intends to spend a good deal of time in Las Vegas during the next few months in order that he could relax and do some gambling at the casinos. He reflected that the FBI is making a mistake by following his activities in this city because his mere appearance in the area is good for law enforcement. He explained this statement by saying that because of his reputation he did not want anything to happen in Las Vegas while he was there and by his influence nothing would happen that he could not control.

In conclusion, ROSENTHAL denied that he was a bookmaker although made no denial that he was presently wagering on sporting events. He made the comment gambling will be here long after we have all left.

Date 7/23/68

FRANK LARRY ROSENTHAL called the Las Vegas office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and left a message for SA [redacted] asking that the call be returned. Later that day SA [redacted] contacted ROSENTHAL by telephone at the Caesars Palace Hotel, Las Vegas, Nevada. ROSENTHAL said he would be at Caesars Palace Hotel for a while; and since SAS [redacted] and ALVIN J. ZIMMERMAN were in the vicinity, they contacted ROSENTHAL at the hotel in person. Sitting with ROSENTHAL at the time of the contact was DAVID BOHN. BOHN introduced himself to the agents and said he has known ROSENTHAL for about a year and volunteered that he would be glad to vouch for ROSENTHAL at any time. When asked about any business relationships with ROSENTHAL, BOHN denied that he had any. [redacted] from Miami, Florida, [redacted] Federal Grand Jury and [redacted] the Federal Grand Jury.

ROSENTHAL said he had learned from JERRY ZAROWITZ, a long time friend of his, that SA [redacted] was inquiring about him. He said it was his belief that if someone was making inquiry, it was better for him to talk to them personally in order to straighten out any misconceptions. In response to questions by SA [redacted] ROSENTHAL denied any present bookmaking activities, any connection with bombings in the Miami, Florida, area, or any connection with hotel thefts in the Las Vegas area. ROSENTHAL said he is presently engaged only in playing the stock market and accounted for his numerous telephone calls while at Caesars Palace Hotel in the past by stating he was merely maintaining contact with his friends in other cities and with his stockbroker. ROSENTHAL denied that these calls had any connection with bookmaking business. ROSENTHAL said he is no longer associated with Multiple Sports News Service.

He claimed to not have any interest in buying into any of the hotels or bookmaking establishments and does not at this time have any plans for establishing himself in Las Vegas onaa permanent basis. He added, however, that he plans to visit Las Vegas on a regular basis. ROSENTHAL said he objected to advising the Miami office in advance regarding his travels but had no objection to being contacted by the Las Vegas office whenever he was in this city.

Because of the presence of BOHN throughout the interview, no effort was made to interview ROSENTHAL in detail regarding the foregoing matters and the interview was terminated.

On July 12, 1968, [redacted] Records Department, Charlotte, North Carolina Police Department, advised SA [redacted] that FRANK LARRY ROSENTHAL, also known as "Lefty", Fingerprint Classification

On July 15, 1968, J. E. STUKES, Clerk of Superior Court, Mecklenburg Co., North Carolina, made available his records which indicated the following: b6 b7C

A Bill of Indictment No. 26-581 returned by the Mecklenburg, North Carolina Grand Jury on March 12, 1963, charges FRANK LARRY ROSENTHAL and [redacted] with four counts:

AT LAS VEGAS, NEVADA

On July 12, 1968, Detective [redacted] Clark County Sheriff's Office (CCSO), was apprised that according to ROSENTHAL's FBI Identification Record, he was convicted for bribery and fined $6,000, and he was in Nevada over 48 hours and had not registered an an ex-convict.

On July 15, 1968, Det. [redacted] CCSO, Las Vegas, Nevada, advised subject was arrested by their office on July 13, 1968, for failing to register as an ex-felon. Subject was arrested at Caesars Palace Hotel. Subject appeared at the CCSO July 15, 1968, and registered as an ex-felon and stated he is staying at the Tropicana Hotel, Las Vegas.

On July 13, 1968, at approximately 5:55 PM, an officer conducting a routine check of Caesars Palace Hotel - Casino, observed a white male adult, who he recognized as one FRANK ROSENTHAL. Upon approaching ROSENTHAL the officer identified himself as a detective of the CCSO and requested that ROSENTHAL accompany him outside the hotel and away from the public view. During his conversation with ROSENTHAL the officer ascertained that subject had arrived in Las Vegas on July 10, 1968, and was staying in Room 925 at the Tropicana Hotel. Subject related that he was a self-employed stock broker and visited Las Vegas with great frequency.

ROSENTHAL denied ever having been convicted of a felony and stated that the only thing he had ever been arrested for were minor traffic violations. Subject further stated that if the officer had any doubts about his integrity, that he could contact some of the more reputable citizens of the community such as JERRY ZAROWITZ and ASH RESNICK, who would verify his reputation.

During the course of the conversation with ROSENTHAL the officer learned that subject had been arrested in North Carolina, on December 3, 1962, for bribery of an athlete. He was subsequently convicted and received a fine of $6,000.

The officer then advised ROSENTHAL that this type of crime constitutes a felony in the State of Nevada; therefore, he was in violation of NRS 207-09, which requires that any person who has been convicted of a felony must register with the nearest law enforcement agency in that community or county of the State of Nevada within 48 hours. ROSENTHAL was then advised that he was being placed under arrest for convicted felon - failure to register, and booked into the CCSO jail. At the time of booking ROSENTHAL had in his possession $1,640.00 in cash.

The Civil Division of the Department of Justice moved to dismiss Count Two of the complaint for the reason that it allegedly failed to state a claim upon which relief could be granted under the Civil Rights Acts. After oral arguments on the motion to dismiss on October 6, 1967, U. S. District Judge C. CLYDE ATKINS, Southern District of Florida, ordered dismissal of Count Two of the complaint.
